After breakfast at our hotel, you will have free time to explore the city sight, or you can join alternatively to the Faro tour. Faro as the capital of the Algarve region, a beautiful versatile city in the south of Portugal, has a lot to offer. Faro is a new destination for tourists with a typical Portuguese city atmosphere, a combination of interesting monuments and traditional Portuguese character. We will start our tour from Marina, a beautiful place in the city center. When we get here to explore, the first thing that we will see is a Faro sing, a typical tourist stops. Near the sign you can see a statue of a woman with a shell instead of her head resting on the stairs leading into the water. Then we will arrive at the Jardim Manuel Bivar, this area is considered the center of the city, integrating one of the main parts of the Historical Centre of Faro. After enjoying the city center, we will go to the old town. Cidade Velha, the historical old town, is divided into two main areas: the Vila - Adentro, the oldest part; and the Mouraria, an area where the Moors settled since the end of the thirteenth century. If you are trying to find your way to the old town, it is good to walk through Arco da Vila, a monumental neo-classical arch with the remains of the original Moorish wall. Then you can roam around within the Muralhas de Faro, a wall with pre-Romanesque origins that encircle the old town. They were beefed up, and later restored twice during the Moorish period in the 9th and then the 12th century. If you enjoy a walk around old town, you will encounter the Faro Cathedral, also known as Sé Catedral de Faro or Igreja de Santa Maria. This monument was opened in 1251, just two years after Faro had been "reconquered" from the Moors. The cathedral was built over the ruins of an ancient Roman temple having been a mosque during the Arab period and converted into a cathedral after King D. Afonso's III conquest.
